

Cabinet Capital Corner – the Big Picture in Bank Balance Sheets

April 17, 2025

Capital management strategies continue to be a focus area for banks in 2025, even though regulatory capital rulemaking has taken a new direction in the U.S.

As the credit risk transfer ("CRT") market matures, the conversation continues to broaden beyond capital implications to loan concentration management and potential return on equity benefits of reducing risk weighted assets.

To help frame these trends in the broader business context, we're launching the new Cabinet Capital Corner feature, beginning with a big picture banking industry update.

Read more here.