August 19, 2022 | Issue No. 189

The Fund Finance Association is thrilled to announce the expansion of FFA University, which now includes two fund finance courses. FFA University 1.0 will be the traditional program, designed for those relatively new to fund finance or seeking a refresher, and will be held virtually on September 21. FFA University 2.0 is a more advanced, in-person program for those seeking greater depth and networking opportunities. Class 2.0 will take place on October 6 in New York City in Cadwalader's New York office, with a reception to follow. To register and learn more about both opportunities, please click here.
