

Fund Finance Friday

On the Move—Fund Finance Tidbits

March 8, 2019 | Issue No. 17

On the Move

- Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. announced a large round of promotions in its Subscription Finance group this week. Michael Cardani, Will Runkle and Michael Timms were all promoted to Director. Cristina Savu and Ryan Tezber were promoted to Vice President.

Long-time fund finance banker Yomi Akinyemi joined Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. as a Director in its Subscription Finance group this week. Yomi will be based in Wells Fargo's New York office. He joins from Lloyds Bank, where he was a Director in the Financial Sponsors group.

- Investec Bank appointed Tom Glover to head the bank's fund finance business in New York. Tom now leads a growing US-based team at Investec USA Holdings Corp. that is expanding its presence in portfolio-based financing solutions. Tom joins Investec from BMO Capital Markets, where he was a senior member of the Financial Sponsor group. Additionally, Investec's New York-based Fund Finance team recently hired Sean Kulkarni as legal counsel and Matthew Keble as associate. The press release is available here.