PERE Article on GFC-style Leverage Use

March 15, 2019 | Issue No. 18

PERE published an article on March 7, titled “Warning bells sounded over GFC-style leverage use.” The article discusses Asia private real estate managers using strategies predicated on leverage levels reaching 90 percent loan to value. The article mentions the use of subscription lines, which it lumps in with real estate mezzanine debt. The full PERE article is available here.
