Brickfield's Fund Finance Recruitment Roundup

December 16, 2022 | Issue No. 204

Brickfield Recruitment has just published its final major article of 2022, looking back at the year in fund finance from a recruitment perspective and looking ahead to 2023, with commentary from industry players on the lender, asset management and legal sides. The spike in compensation levels experienced in 2022 appears to have receded, but market uncertainty will present a different challenge. A tougher buy-side market in 2023 will mean opportunities for innovators and non-traditional participants.
