For the first podcast of 2024 from We Talk Banking and Finance with Walkers, Tom Speller, Managing Director and Head of European Funds at KBRA, takes some time out to speak with Zoë Hallam and Julia Keppe, co-heads of the Walkers' Channel Islands fund finance practice. His insights into the increased prevalence of ratings in both Europe and the US and across the full fund finance product spectrum, as well as the key drivers behind this trend, are worth a listen.
