Please join us in welcoming Todd Matras, Mira Midelieva and Dimitrios Pittas to Cadwalader.

Todd Matras joins the firm as Counsel in the Fund Finance group in New York. Todd, who joins Cadwalader from another major global law firm, has a wealth of experience advising banks, private credit funds and private equity funds. Todd's experience includes acquisition finance, leveraged lending and supply-chain finance. Todd earned his J.D. from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law, an M.B.A. from Regis University and a B.S. from Purdue University.

Mira Midelieva joins the Fund Finance team as an associate in London and comes to Cadwalader from a global law firm. Mira advises banks and non-bank lenders on the full spectrum of fund finance products, including subscription line facilities, NAV and hybrid facilities, GP-support and management line facilities and co-invest facilities. Mira received her LL.M. from BPP University, Holborn and her LL.B. from University of Southampton with First Class Honours.

Dimitrios Pittas joins the Fund Finance team as an associate in London. Dimitrios comes to Cadwalader from a global law firm where he worked on a wide range of fund finance transactions. His experience also includes leveraged finance. Dimitrios received his LL.M. from King's College London and his LPC from BPP Law School.
