Mourant Shares Takeaways from Global Fund Finance Symposium

March 6, 2020 | Issue No. 67

Mourant has published an article articulating overarching takeaways from the Global Fund Finance Symposium held last month. The article summarizes developments and forecasts across the North American, European and Asian markets, including the overall growth of the global private equity market; suggested industry norms for the growing syndication market; and the rapid emergence of nontraditional markets, transactions and lenders in the fund finance space.
