Eleven Cadwalader lawyers have been named to Lawdragon's inaugural "Leading Global Real Estate Lawyers" guide, published today.

In its first-ever review of the wide-ranging law firm real estate profession, Lawdragon notes that "real estate, broadly defined, is an asset class that ranges from the vision, finance, construction and leasing ... [a]s we researched this guide, we were also impressed with the pockets of nuance within various geographic markets ... [g]etting to know these lawyers and other candidates brought enormous respect for the depth of knowledge in the law and local business and politics required for any great lawyer."
