

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA
Norfolk Division

BIEDERMANN TECHNOLOGIES
GMBH & CO. KG,

Plaintiff,

v.

Action No. 2:18cv585

K2M, INC., et al.,

Defendants.

ORDER

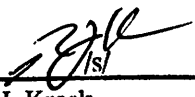

The final pretrial conference in this matter has been rescheduled to 9:30 a.m. on October 15, 2021. In keeping with the guidance delineated in General Order No. 2020-16, Case No. 2:20mc7, because of the public health emergency posed by COVID-19, the Court has determined that this proceeding should be conducted remotely, using the zoomgov.com platform.¹ To permit the Court the ability to make rulings on any objections during the conference, the parties are DIRECTED to submit to the chambers of the undersigned, no later than October 8, 2021, the following:

1. A proposed Final Pretrial Order signed by both parties.
2. A copy of all exhibits to which the parties have objections that were not able to be resolved. The exhibits should be submitted in binders and marked in accordance with their designation in the proposed Final Pretrial Order.

¹ Counsel will be provided with the necessary information to permit remote access to the conference.

3. Copies of any de bene esse depositions to which the parties have made objections. The deposition designations, counter-designations, and any objections and the bases therefor should be specifically delineated in the Final Pretrial Order. To facilitate the Court's review of deposition objections, the plaintiff's objections to designated testimony shall be highlighted in one color, and the defendants' objections in another color.

The Clerk shall forward a copy of this Order to all counsel of record.
